TWO-STEP CROWN

WHAT TO EXPECT

For the next few days you may experience some post-operative sensitivity. That is normal. Your tooth may be sore for a little while as it heals from the procedure. Expect some sensitivity especially to cold or hot food or liquids. In time, this usually subsides depending on your tooth and how quickly it heals.

If you require something for discomfort, we recommend either Ibuprofen (e.g. Advil) or Acetaminophen (e.g. Tylenol) taken as directed on the bottle. If pain is severe (e.g. constant pain, wakes you up at night, etc.), you may need to come back and see us. Please call and schedule an appointment in this case.

CARE

Please be careful with your temporary crown. We recommend avoiding really sticky and crunchy foods on your temporary crown. If you use floss around the crown, be careful not to pull the crown off. Slide the floss out to the side as opposed to pulling up or down to remove the floss. You should brush your tooth like normal. Be careful if you have an electric toothbrush not to dislodge the crown.

In the unlikely event that the crown comes off or breaks, please contact us. We will see you and replace it. You may try to place it back on the tooth yourself. All you have to do is slide it right back down over the tooth. Please do not use any kind of glue or cement to replace your temporary crown.

NEXT STEPS

When you return to our office, we will remove the temporary and try in the definitive restoration. During that visit it may be necessary to numb your tooth. If we approve of the fit, feel, and shade of the crown, we will place it on the tooth with a definitive cement.
